VANCOUVER NATIVE STEVEN BRADLEY SELECTS PORTERHOUSE RECORDS AS LABEL PARTNER FOR HIS DEBUT FULL LENGTH “SUMMER BLISS AND AUTUMN TEARS”

Porterhouse Records is happy to announce partnering with Steven Bradley to release his upcoming debut full length recording entitled “Summer Bliss and Autumn Tears” and have scheduled it for a Nov. 29, 2019 street date in Canada.

Having chosen to brand his music apart from his production career he explains “I wanted a clear distinction between my work as Steve Kravac the producer and that of my songwriting persona. While people know my work with fellow Canadians like the Doughboys and my output with Less Than Jake, M.X.P.X. and Blink 182, this current undertaking has its own path and I felt it needed some separation from where I’ve been in order to better understand where I’m going”

He describes the upcoming release as follows; “I knew I’d end up making a record that drew on a myriad of influences but I also knew that it would stand as its own thing. You can shift from the power pop of Nick Lowe to lap steel voicings of George Harrison in the same tune. Big Star was going to be in play, Neil Young had to be in play and while those influences pop up here and there, what makes this record work is that the thread of the songs holds it all together”

While Steven plays most of the instruments on the record himself, he called on a number of friends to help fill things out. Notable contributors are Canadian guitarist laureate Kevin Kane (Grapes of Wrath, Northern Pikes), pedal steel master Greg Leisz (K.D. Lang, Willie Nelson, Jackson Brown) and keyboardist Danny McGough (Tom Waits).

Additionally, guitarists Jonny “Two Bags” Wickersham (Social Distortion) and Wayne Kramer (MC5) got the call up and Mike Herrera and the entire M.X.P.X. band jumped in on backing with vocals along with Steven McDonald (Redd Kross).
